

This human triggered avalanche occurred in Sunlight Basin in the southern Madison Range. The slope has an east-northeast aspect and was heavily wind loaded. The slide was triggered from low on the slope and it propagated a few hundred feet uphill. The rider who triggered the slide was not caught, but another rider in the run out zone was partially buried near the toe of the debris. Fortunately nobody was injured in this incident. Photo GNFAC

Advisory Region
Southern Madison

Longitude
-111.30W
Latitude
44.97N

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Wed Feb 15, 2017GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Thu Feb 16, 2017

Southern Madison, 2017-02-14